Introduction

Dear Student,

Exam times are very important times in your life. The exams that you will be taking this year will influence what you do in the future, so it is very important that they run as smoothly as possible. This booklet has been produced to help you organise and prepare yourself for your forthcoming examinations.

There are a number of rules and regulations for exams that you must be aware of (most of these are set by the Exam Boards, not by the School) so please take some time to look through it to ensure that you are fully aware of the rules and regulations, timings and arrangements made for you.

IF YOU DO NOT ABIDE BY THESE RULES, THEN IT IS POSSIBLE THAT YOU COULD BE DISQUALIFIED FROM YOUR EXAMS, SO PLEASE MAKE SURE THAT YOU READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION CAREFULLY.

IF THERE IS ANYTHING THAT YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND, THEN ASK A TEACHER OR THE EXAMS OFFICER FOR HELP.

Do not lose this leaflet

A copy is available on the school website: <http://www.barclayschool.co.uk>

Things you need to know

Candidate Number

You have been allocated a 4 figure reference number that refers only to you. This number allows the exam boards to identify you for each exam you sit and each paper you take. You must therefore ensure you write this number correctly on each paper so the exam boards can mark your paper and allocate your marks to you. You can find this on your timetable, on the exams board, or on the seating plan that will be posted outside each exam room. When completing the information on each exam paper, you MUST use only your legal names, not those you like to go by i.e. Charlie must be written as Charles if that is what is on your birth certificate. If you don't your paper may not be marked as the exam board will not know who you are.

Timetables

Please check your individual timetable very carefully. If there are ANY mistakes (e.g. name, date of birth, exam entry wrong tier, etc.) you MUST inform the exams officer immediately. Mistakes that are not spotted at this stage could mean that you sit the wrong exam or your certificate is incorrectly printed later.

Check each exam date carefully and check to see if the exam is in the morning or the afternoon. If there is an exam on the list that you were not expecting to take (e.g. if you know that you have already dropped or been withdrawn from a subject) you MUST tell the exams office or your subject teacher immediately. Make sure you know which room and seat you need to go to for each exam. Extra time will not be permitted if you have simply misread your timetable.

Morning exams start at 0900 AM and afternoon exams at 1.30 PM. Please be outside the exam room at least 15 minutes before the exam is due to start (0845 AM and 1.15 PM at the latest).

If you are unable to make your exam or are ill please contact the school as soon as possible. Please refer to the "What to do if you are ill?" page in this booklet for further instructions.

You alone are responsible for checking your Exam Timetable. If you lose it go to the exam office for a replacement.

Location of Exams

Most exams will take place in the Main Hall or Post 16, but not all of them. A few examinations will take place in the bungalow (Meeting rooms 1, 2 and 3) or another room. Please check your individual timetable to make sure you know where you are supposed to be and if you are unsure please ask.

Do not enter an exam room until instructed to do so by the invigilator or a member of staff. Make sure that you are sat in the correct seat to avoid you being marked as absent or sitting the wrong exam paper.

Absence from Exams

You must attend all exams that are on your timetable. Misreading the timetable will not be accepted as a satisfactory explanation for absence. Please refer to the "What to do if you are ill?" page in this booklet for further instructions.

Banned Items

It cannot be stressed enough the importance of not bringing into the exams room any unauthorised material or equipment which might give you an unfair advantage such as notes, calculator cases, bags, mobile telephones, iwatches, iPods, MP3 players and pagers. You are strongly advised against bringing any of these items to school with you on exam days as the school cannot take responsibility if they are lost or damaged.

IF A MOBILE PHONE, IWATCH, PAGER OR OTHER ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION DEVICE IS FOUND IN YOUR POSSESSION DURING AN EXAM, EVEN IF IT IS TURNED OFF, THE DEVICE WILL BE TAKEN FROM YOU AND A REPORT MADE TO THE APPROPRIATE EXAM BOARD. NO EXCEPTIONS WILL BE MADE.

MINIMUM PENALTIES IMPOSED BY THE EXAM BOARDS ARE AS FOLLOWS (WITHOUT EXCEPTION):

- Device found on you and turned ON: disqualification from entire subject award.
- Device found on you and turned OFF: disqualification from that component.

Cheating

If you are caught cheating in any way during an exam, you WILL be reported to the Exam Board. "Cheating" means doing anything that is against the rules as stated on the Notice to Candidates (included with this leaflet). No writing on hands or henna is allowed during the exams.

Conduct in the Exam Room

You must be silent at all times. This includes when you enter and leave. If you need assistance, put your hand up clearly and wait for an invigilator to attend to you. Once you have entered the exam room, you must be escorted at all times if you need to leave (e.g. for a visit to the toilet).

Please do not write on exams desks, it is regarded as vandalism and you may have to pay for any damage, you may also be considered to be cheating.

You will not be allowed to leave early, even if you have finished your work as this disturbs those still working around you.

End of the Exam

The invigilators will collect your papers before you leave the room.

ABSOLUTE SILENCE MUST BE MAINTAINED DURING THIS TIME.

Question papers, answer booklets and additional paper MUST NOT be taken from the exam room. You will be dismissed row by row IN SILENCE.

Please do not congregate outside the exam room to chat to your friends – there may well be other exams still in progress around you.

Special Consideration

If your performance in an exam has been affected by, for example, illness, bereavement or injury we can make an application for Special Consideration which is a post examination adjustment. If, after an exam, you think you have a good reason for applying for Special Consideration, you need to come to the exams office without delay. There are very many rules when applying for Special Consideration, only genuine cases will be pursued and any adjustments deemed necessary are not the decision of the school, but the Examination Board itself.

Exams Checklist

Aim to arrive at your lining up point at least 15 minutes prior to an exam AT THE LATEST. If you arrive late, report to the main reception as soon as you arrive. If you are more than 30 minutes late, it is highly likely that you will not be able to sit the exam. Morning exams start at 0900 AM and afternoon exams at 1.50 PM
Check where you are sitting on the board outside the exam room, changes can be made at the last minute.
When taking exams, bags are not allowed inside ANY exam room. Jackets are to be kept on or put on the back of your chair, the invigilators will advise you on the day.
Phones & Watches – Students must not have mobile phones in their possession (either on or off). They are to be left, TURNED OFF, in bags during the exam if necessary. This is very important – if a phone is found, there is a good chance that you could be disqualified. Phones and watches will be collected and returned when the exam has finished. There are clocks in the exam by which you can tell the time.
You should bring BLACK pens (not gel), pencil, rubber and any other equipment needed for your exams. Do NOT rely upon the school to provide these for you. Only clear pencil cases are allowed on your desk. Do not use gel or erasable pens (the writing on your exam paper will disappear when the exam board scan your paper!). Highlighters can be used on the exam paper to highlight questions but not used on any answers.
Calculators are to be used only when the exam says so and the lids must be removed. If you accidentally bring in your calculator lid or calculator it must be given to an invigilator. All data needs to be cleared before coming into the exam, for Casio calculators press Shift 9 and then AC.
Write within any margin lines on the exam paper. Some papers are scanned by the exam boards and you may risk some of your work not being scanned if it outside the parameters of the exam paper.
There is absolutely no talking or communication between students once you enter the exam hall. If you have any questions, you should raise your hand once seated and an invigilator will come to you
No food (including chewing gum) is allowed in the exam hall (if you have a special requirement – please see the Exams Officer, before the exams).

Make sure you eat a good breakfast before your exams – it will help you concentrate

Water bottles are allowed in the exam hall if necessary but please bear in mind that if spilt they can spoil your exam papers. These should be clear bottles preferably with a screw top as the “sports” style bottle can be noisy and disturb others around you. There should be no label on the bottle.

If you need to go to the toilet during an exam, you must put your hand up and you will be escorted to the toilet either by an invigilator. Please don't wait until you are desperate to go – we may need time to bring in someone to escort you.

Check that you have been given the question paper that you are expecting to take. If not, put your hand up and speak to the invigilator. We cannot give you extra time if you realise half way through a paper that you are doing the wrong one or the wrong tier.

If you feel ill during the examination, please bring this to the attention of the invigilator as soon as you can.

Remember – Stay Calm And The Very Best of Luck To You All

What to do if you are ill on the day of the exam

If you are ill and are unable to attend an exam it is vital you phone the school first thing in the morning on 01438 232221 to inform us. Mr Waywood is Head of Year 11 and Mr Norwood is head of Post 16. The exams officer is Mrs Malynn and can be contacted on extension 206 or the number above.

Very often, even if you have broken something we can put something in place so you can still sit your exam. You cannot take your exam on another day. If something like this happens please ask the doctor/hospital to give you a letter outlining what the problem is, you must obtain a note from your doctor detailing the reason for non-attendance.

Enquiries About Results

Once you have received your results, you may feel that you wish to submit a query about them, particularly if you feel that you did well in the exam, and your result does not reflect this.

You need to speak with the Head of Department voice your concerns as soon as possible. They will be able to offer you advice on the way forward. If they feel that you have achieved the grade they expected you to, it would not be something that the school would pursue or pay for. If you are unhappy with the decision, you are able to pursue an enquiry yourself through the school.

If you wish to make an enquiry yourself, we must have your written consent before anything can be submitted to the Examination Board. You will need to complete the Candidate Consent Form obtainable from the notice board outside the Examinations Office and return this to the Examinations Office by the deadline specified on the form along with the respective payment. No enquiries will be made without the completed form and payment being received.

Information for candidates – Privacy Notice

General and Vocational qualifications

Effective from 1 September 2016

The JCQ awarding bodies will process your personal data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Code of Practice issued by the qualification regulators of England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Correspondence on any aspect of a candidate's examination or assessment will only be conducted between the awarding body and the head of the centre, a member of the senior leadership team or the examinations officer.

Awarding bodies will undertake the following administrative activities in relation to the processing and exchange of candidates' personal data:

1. Personal data relating to the name(s), date of birth, gender, unique candidate identifier (UCI) and unique learner number (ULN) of an individual candidate will always be collected by an awarding body for the purposes of examining and awarding qualifications. In some cases additional information, which may include sensitive personal data relating to health, will also be collected to support requests for access arrangements and reasonable adjustments and/or special consideration. Such personal data will be supplemented by the results of examinations and assessments undertaken by the respective candidate.
2. A candidate's personal data will only be collected from registered examination centres in the context of examination entries and/or certification claims.
3. Such data collected will not be used by an awarding body other than for the administration of the examinations process, conducting assessments and the certification of results claims.
4. Personal data within candidates' work will be collected and processed by an awarding body for the purposes of marking, issuing of examination results and providing candidates with access to post-results services. Examination results will be retained for a minimum of forty years.

In order for an awarding body to achieve this, some personal information may be transferred to third parties such as examiners, who may in some instances, reside outside the European Economic Area.

5. Awarding bodies may be required to provide a candidate's personal data to educational agencies such as DfE, WG, DENI, The Skills Funding Agency, Ofqual, HESA, UCAS, Local Authorities, EFA and Learning Records Service (LRS). Additionally, candidates' personal data may be provided to a central record of qualifications approved by the awarding bodies for statistical and policy development purposes.
6. Some of the information candidates supply will be used by the Skills Funding Agency to fulfil its statutory functions, issue/verify a candidate's Unique Learner Number (ULN) and update/check a candidate's Personal Learning Record.

The Skills Funding Agency may share a candidate's ULN and Personal Learning Record with other education related organisations, such as a careers service, a candidate's school or college, Government Departments and public bodies responsible for education. Further details of how information is processed and shared can be found at:

<http://www.learningrecordservice.org.uk/>

7. Awarding bodies are obliged to confirm what personal data is held, what it is held for, to whom the data is to/may be disclosed to, and disclose the information that they hold about data subjects, (e.g. the candidates) within 40 days of receiving a formal request for disclosure, subject to the application of any relevant exemptions under the Data Protection Act 1998.

Candidates should make an application to the appropriate awarding body's data protection officer. Awarding bodies may charge a fee for this service.

8. If you have not reached the age of 16, you may first wish to discuss this Privacy Notice with your parent or legal guardian.

Awarding bodies, schools, Department for Education (DfE), Welsh Government (WG), Department of Education Northern Ireland (DENI), Local Authorities, the Office of the Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual), Ofsted, and Skills Funding Agency (SFA) are all 'data controllers' under the Data Protection Act 1998, in that they determine the purpose(s) for which 'personal data' (information about living individuals from which they can be identified) is processed and the way in which that processing is undertaken.

It is a requirement for data controllers to provide data subjects (individuals who are the subject of personal data) with details of who they are, the purposes for which they process the personal data, and any other information that is necessary to make the processing of the personal data secure and accurate, including any third parties to whom it may be passed to.

Information for candidates – GCSE controlled assessments

This document tells you about some things that you must and must not do when you are completing your work.

When you submit any work for marking, you will be asked to sign an authentication statement confirming that you have read and followed these regulations.

If there is anything that you do not understand, you must ask your teacher or lecturer.

Controlled assessment will provide you with an opportunity to do some independent research into a topic. The research you do may involve looking for information in published sources such as textbooks, encyclopedias, journals, TV, radio and on the internet.

Using information from published sources (including the internet) as the basis for your assignment is a good way to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of a subject. You must take care how you use this material though - you cannot copy it and claim it as your own work.

The regulations state that:

“the work which you submit for assessment must be your own”;

“you must not copy from someone else or allow another candidate to copy from you”.

If you use the same wording as a published source, you must place quotation marks around the passage and state where it came from. This is called “referencing”. You must make sure that you give detailed references for everything in your work which is not in your own words. A reference from a printed book or journal should show the name of the author, the year of publication and the page number, for example: (Morrison, 2000, pg.29).

For material taken from the internet, your reference should show the date when the material was downloaded and must show the precise web page, not the search engine used to locate it. This can be copied from the address line. For example:
(<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/16/sosteacher/history/49766.shtml>), downloaded 5 February 2017.

You may be required to include a bibliography at the end of your work. Your teacher or lecturer will tell you whether a bibliography is necessary. Where required, your bibliography must list the full details of publications you have used in your research, even where these are not directly referred to, for example: Morrison, A. (2000) ‘Mary, Queen of Scots’, London: Weston Press.

If you copy the words or ideas of others and don’t show your sources in references and a bibliography, this will be considered as cheating.

Preparing your work – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, the description of how that data was obtained and the conclusions you draw from it should be in your own words.

You must meet the deadlines that your teacher gives you. Remember - your teachers are there to guide you. Although they cannot give you direct assistance, they can help you to sort out any problems before it is too late.

Take care of your work and keep it safe. Don't leave it lying around where your classmates can find it. You must always keep your work secure and confidential whilst you are preparing it; do not share it with your classmates. If it is stored on the computer network, keep your password secure. Collect all copies from the printer and destroy those you don't need.

Don't be tempted to use essays from on-line essay banks — this is cheating. Electronic tools used by awarding bodies can detect this sort of copying.

You must not write inappropriate, offensive or obscene material.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves taking someone else's words, thoughts or ideas and trying to pass them off as your own. It is a form of cheating which is taken very seriously.

Don't think you won't be caught; there are many ways to detect plagiarism.

- Markers can spot changes in the style of writing and use of language.
- Markers are highly experienced subject specialists who are very familiar with work on the topic concerned — they may have read the source you are using (or even marked the essay you have copied from!).
- Internet search engines and specialised computer software can be used to match phrases or pieces of text with original sources and to detect changes in the grammar and style of writing or punctuation.

Penalties for breaking the regulations

If your work is submitted and it is discovered that you have broken the regulations, one of the following penalties will be applied:

- the piece of work will be awarded zero marks;
- you will be disqualified from that unit for the examination series in question;
- you will be disqualified from the whole subject for that examination series;
- you will be disqualified from all subjects and barred from entering again for a period of time.

Your awarding body will decide which penalty is appropriate.

REMEMBER – IT'S YOUR QUALIFICATION SO IT NEEDS TO BE YOUR OWN WORK

This notice has been produced on behalf of:

AQA, OCR, Pearson and WJEC

The regulations state that:

“the work which you submit for assessment must be your own”;

“you must not copy from someone else or allow another candidate to copy from you”.

When producing a piece of written work, if you use the same wording as a published source you must place quotation marks around the passage and state where it came from. This is called “referencing”. You must make sure that you give detailed references for everything in your work which is not in your own words. A reference from a printed book or journal should show the name of the author, the year of publication and the page number, for example: (Morrison, 2000, pg.29).

For material taken from the internet, your reference should show the date when the material was downloaded and must show the precise web page, not the search engine used to locate it. This can be copied from the address line. For example:

(<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/16/sosteacher/history/49766.shtml>), downloaded 5 February 2017.

You may be required to include a bibliography at the end of your piece of written work. Your teacher or lecturer will tell you whether a bibliography is necessary. Where required, your bibliography must list the full details of publications you have used in your research, even where these are not directly referred to, for example: Morrison, A. (2000) ‘Mary, Queen of Scots’, London: Weston Press.

If you copy the words or ideas of others and don’t show your sources in references and a bibliography, this will be considered as cheating.

Preparing your work – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example, undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, you must describe in your own words how that data was obtained and you must independently draw your own conclusions from the data.

You must meet the deadlines that your teacher gives you. Remember - your teachers are there to guide you. Although they cannot give you direct assistance, they can help you to sort out any problems before it is too late.

Take care of your work and keep it safe. Don't leave it lying around where your classmates can find it. You must always keep your work secure and confidential whilst you are preparing it; do not share it with your classmates. If it is stored on the computer network, keep your password secure. Collect all copies from the printer and destroy those you don't need.

Don't be tempted to use essays from on-line essay banks — this is cheating. Electronic tools used by awarding bodies can detect this sort of copying.

You must not write inappropriate, offensive or obscene material.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves taking someone else's words, thoughts or ideas and trying to pass them off as your own. It is a form of cheating which is taken very seriously.

Don't think you won't be caught; there are many ways to detect plagiarism.

- Markers can spot changes in the style of writing and use of language.
- Markers are highly experienced subject specialists who are very familiar with work on the topic concerned — they may have read or seen the source you are using (or even marked the essay you have copied from!).
- Internet search engines and specialised computer software can be used to match phrases or pieces of text with original sources and to detect changes in the grammar and style of writing or punctuation.

Penalties for breaking the regulations

If your work is submitted and it is discovered that you have broken the regulations, one of the following penalties will be applied:

- the piece of work will be awarded zero marks;
- you will be disqualified from that component for the examination series in question;
- you will be disqualified from the whole subject for that examination series;
- you will be disqualified from all subjects and barred from entering again for a period of time.

Your awarding body will decide which penalty is appropriate.

Information for candidates

GCE, ELC and Project qualifications - coursework assessments

This document tells you about some things that you must, and must not do when you are completing coursework.

When you submit any coursework for marking, you will be asked to sign an authentication statement confirming that you have read and followed these regulations.

If there is anything that you do not understand, you must ask your teacher or lecturer.

Coursework provides you with an opportunity to do some independent research into a topic. The research you do will involve looking for information in published sources such as textbooks, encyclopedias, journals, TV, radio and on the internet.

Using information from published sources (including the internet) as the basis for your coursework is a good way to demonstrate your knowledge and understanding of a subject. You must take care how you use this material though - you cannot copy it and claim it as your own work.

Preparing your coursework – good practice

If you receive help and guidance from someone other than your teacher, you must tell your teacher who will then record the nature of the assistance given to you.

Your parent/carer may provide you with access to resource materials and discuss your coursework with you. However, they must not give you direct advice on what should and should not be included.

If you worked as part of a group on an assignment, for example undertaking field research, you must each write up your own account of the assignment. Even if the data you have is the same, the description of how that data was obtained and the conclusions you draw from it should be in your own words.

Guidelines when referring to examinations/assessments through the Internet

This document has been written to help you. Please read it carefully.

We all like to share our experiences when taking examinations. However, it is important to consider what you say. Your comments may lead to an investigation for malpractice and result in the application of a penalty.

Awarding bodies monitor social media and websites. They do not wish to see candidates jeopardise their marks or grades as there are significant consequences for anyone caught breaching the rules for examinations, controlled assessment or coursework.

The rules are set by the Joint Council for Qualifications^{CIC} (JCQ^{CIC}) on behalf of all the awarding bodies and can be found at: <http://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/malpractice>

Examples of statements or activities that will lead to a malpractice investigation include:

- copying or allowing work to be copied – i.e. posting written work on social networking sites prior to an examination/assessment;
- collusion: working collaboratively with other candidates beyond what is permitted;
- allowing others to help produce your work or helping others with theirs;
- being in possession of confidential material in advance of the examination;
- exchanging, obtaining, receiving or passing on information by any means of communication (even if just attempting to);
- passing on rumours of exam content from another candidate.

This list is not exhaustive. Other instances of candidate malpractice may be considered by an awarding body.

If you are found guilty of breaching any of these rules you could find yourself facing:

- a warning;
- the loss of marks for a section, component or unit;
- disqualification from a unit, all units or qualifications; or
- a ban from sitting exams for a set period of time.

You must familiarise yourself with the rules:

<http://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/information-for-candidates-documents>

Take care to avoid possible malpractice and the application of a penalty.
